General

This month was marked by 3 successful operations against 3 suspects.

Following a report to LAGA and international collaboration with the US Fish and Wildlife Service, a well-known Internet wildlife dealer engaged in the trade of primate skulls and other protected wildlife products over the Internet for more than 4 years was arrested in Buea – South West Region. He had sent illegal consignments to U.S.A. 22 times. He was arrested while trying to sell more primate skulls to a shop in U.S.A. He also falsified the MINFOF Minister's signature which he used on a falsified CITES Permit. His link to immigration and adoption scams is being investigated. The link between Internet wildlife fraud and other forms of fraud had been discovered before and discussed with the Prime Minister of Cameroon. This case proves that while the Internet trade in Cameroon is connected to fraud, it does not mean that actual transactions do not take place.

2 other operations resulted in the arrest of 2 suspects. A dealer in Leopard skin was arrested in Bafoussam – West Region. He was laundering illegal wildlife trade in the cover of a medicine store. He was arrested trying to illegally trade in a big fresh leopard skin. He also works as a security man in the Bafoussam market and uses that cover to get customers for his wildlife products. Another regular dealer supplying large quantities of bushmeat of protected wildlife species was arrested in Foubot – West Region. He was arrested trying to sell a full dead cerval cat and meat of protected wildlife species

The Court of First Instance of Ntui in the Center Region has sentenced 3 female wildlife dealers to 2 years suspended sentences during 5 years and to pay 35.000 FCFA (About $70) as fine and 500.000 FCFA (About $1000) as damages. They belonged to a network that was busted and they were arrested in Ntui while trying to sell a live chimp.
