External Relations and Policy

- LAGA Director held very important meetings with the Secretary General at the Presidency of the Republic on wildlife law enforcement.
- LAGA Director also met with the US Ambassador on wildlife law enforcement.

Management

- LAGA Director started a 1 month visit to Israel for medical reasons. This saw the LAGA family running LAGA without the director and the excellent results in all fronts proved the growing capacity and independence of its departments.

Activism Front

All the education activities carried out by the LAGA family are online; this could be gotten at the LAGA website – <http://www.laga-enforcement.org/Activism/tabid/77/Default.aspx>.

The education activity for this month was on the emancipation of a woman and her accession to post of responsibility.

The presentation on women emancipation generally looks at the inequality between a man and a woman; the inability of a woman or her ability to do things equally if not better than men. It focuses more on the emergence of a woman. Before now a woman was limited to certain aspects of life such as cooking with some of her abilities and competence put to question. But over time some women have ascended to important post of responsibility like Heads of State, International Judges, Secretaries of State etc. Some have received great distinctions (Nobel prizes) proving that women are capable of taking full responsibilities even for tasks considered to be very difficult and challenging.

The question therefore is why are women still not emerging? Or established? Who could be the cause?

- Is it because women are not self-confident?
- Do societal beliefs play in role in this?
- Or, is it the men who played an important role in women inferiority?

Replication

During this month, LAGA helped other replication projects in planning investigations and operations, following up court cases, the production of media pieces and training in Yaounde.

2 Jurists from PALF – Republic of Congo were trained in Yaounde under the regional exchange program. This is a continuation of training and exchange of project personnel in regional enforcement to further improve output and make investigations, operations, legal follow-up and media coverage more effective.

LAGA continued to get more concrete information on the massacre of 40 elephants in the Chari Barguirmi area in Chad, and to put up a good strategy in arresting the poachers in question, as well as working with wildlife authorities in the Northern part of Cameroon to prepare for any eventuality in case the poachers cross over from Chad. Unfortunately still, it is difficult to have the right measure of control given that effective replication activities are still to kick-off in Chad.

LAGA also continued to work with RALF and PALF on planning investigations, strategies on operations and legal follow-up of court cases.

Finance

In preparation, will be made available shortly.
